Marie-Anne Garigue joins Calyptus

Marie-Anne Garigue joins Calyptus, the financial and corporate communications agency, as Account Director.

Aged 41, with a Phd in Finance and Management from Dauphine University, Marie-Anne Garigue has a strong experience in media and consulting.

She started her career as portfolio manager, and then chose to specialize in economic journalism, with an experience in major editorial teams such as Capital Finance, Le Nouvel Economiste, La Bourse Pour Tous, l'Agefi and Management. At l'Agefi, she was joint chief editor, in charge of the "financial markets" and "listed companies" columns. She also had an on-line communications experience, participating in the creation of a financial information website in 2000/2001.

Since 2006, she worked as an independant consultant, in charge of Investors relations and Press relations for a number of listed companies. She advised clients in various sectors such as Energy, Food and Wine, Telecom and Real Estate.

At Calyptus, Marie-Anne will manage and develop a portfolio of clients, to advise and serve them in all aspects of their financial communications.
